The grain barons will be the first Department, has lived five months to feel the five of Harbert Hoover's and gained fiesh without a bite of

The grain barons will be the first to feel the first of Harbert Hoover's fight against the food apeculator. Beginning with a statement Monday morning in which he will reveal the extent speculators have boosted wheat prices. Hoover will launch his fight.

Eisysters and milliers lack sufficient wheat to make flour to last the entire heat to make flour to last the entire is in the hands of speculators, while the lagitlimate dealers have been unable to purchase wheat because the banks, fearing adverse action and delay by Congress, have refused to advance money to carry the wheat until it is milled. The first step will be to take the wheat from the hoarder and speculator and consumer which will be attacked immediately, it was announced.

The price of wheat—about $2.25 per bushel—will not be driven down. It is the excess profit between producer and consumer which will be attacked immediately, it was announced.

There will be nothing spectacular, about this lowering of prices, it was said at the food administration to day. ## WILL RETURN TO CAPITAL

Joseph Hall Chass, once a prominent figure in the Washington plane business, will shortly return to Washington as sales manager for Cohen & Hughes, Inc., of Washington

Not Simpson himself for substan-tiation of this, but his superior offi-cers, men who have called on him to do things they never expected him to accomplish and have found that he always succeeded.

Some may scott, tome may smile when they read the story, yet to hear Simpson tell the results he has abhieved, to listen to the strong ha-dersements of his success and his musty State papers, and Simpson is knows these files like Simpson. Ordinarily he has no trouble in putting his hands on just the paper wanted, but there come times when a high official will ask for a letter or other decument about which no man in the files division has remembrance. Careful assieh for hours and days falls to reveal it.

Then Simpson goes into a quiet part of the files rooms and gets down on his knees in prayer, with absolute faith that his appeals will be answered.

"And they are," he said today.

"I never knew him to fall," was the emphatic statement of his chief, Major Gaines. "If the paper is in this department he gets it. He has done some marvelous things for the Government, and we have faith in him."
